

Islamic Banking and Finance

Econ 4797.01, Summer 2023

Two weeks virtual classes, (May 9 – May 19, 2023), followed by two weeks in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia. (Dates, including travel are May 20-June 3, 2023).

The Department of Economics will offer undergraduate students rank two and above a four-week course in Islamic Banking and Finance with Dr. Ida Mirzaie during Summer 2023. The course will cover Islamic banking and finance in theory and in practice. Students will be prepared to:

1. Understand the relation between culture/religion and the economy
2. Better understand Islamic finance vs. conventional finance
3. Learn the challenges of Islamic finance in practice.

This 3-credit hour course fulfills an intermediate elective option for Economics majors and minors. While this program is open to all majors, preference will be given to Economics and Fisher College of Business majors.

For more information, please join us at our information session:

December 5 at 4:30pm

100 Enarson Classroom Building

or email Marisa Menier (menier.4@osu.edu)

Petronas Twin Towers, the tallest twin buildings in the world.

Batu Caves, one of the most important Hindu Shrines.

Putrajaya, Malaysia's administrative centre.